The World Health Organization estimates that over 250 million people worldwide have lymphedema (LE).

The Lymphatic Education & Research Network's Asia Pacific Chapter connects people affected by lymphedema and lymphatic diseases (LD) across the region.

The chapter's goals are to build a community, increase awareness, educate others, and fight for a cure.

The Lymphatic Education & Research Network has been fighting lymphedema (LE) and lymphatic diseases (LD) since 1998. Whereas millions suffer from these diseases, they are routinely undiagnosed or mistreated.

LE&RN is dedicated to fighting lymphatic diseases through education, research, and advocacy. We seek to accelerate the prevention, treatments, and cures for lymphedema, lipedema, lymphatic anomalies, and the continuum of lymphatic diseases.
